IN AND OUTDOOR FURNISHINGS

COUNTRY HOME

PERHAPS the greatest charm of the Country Home is in its surroundings. Simple and attractive furnishings do more to make a home than the dwelling itself. In the country outdoor furnishings are about as important as those used for the interior.

In this booklet we are showing many practical and attractive furnishings that we have selected after some thirty years' experience in this line and feel that they will add much to any country home as they have to our portable houses.

The outdoor articles are made of materials best suited for outside use and thoroughly painted and ready for immediate use.

These articles can be seen at our Boston, New York and Florida show rooms or at our outdoor exhibits.

HODGSON BIRD HOUSES

Our bird houses are attractive and practical. Being well made of red cedar, and well painted, they will last for years. They can be easily opened up for spring house cleaning, which should be done each season before nesting time. Many of the larger bird houses represent the several types of old New England homesteads so well known and appreciated, and add much to the attractiveness of any grounds. These are the first five houses shown and are for Martins.

ATTRACTING THE WILD BIRDS

Up to within recent times many who provided care, food and shelter to our wild birds did so from humanitarian motives and the pleasure to be had from having them in their grounds and around their homes.

Furnishings for Your Country Home

Colonial Bird House—Price $30.00
16 x 24 inches—28 rooms—16 ft. Pole

In winter we have only to offer food to the birds to attract them. Shelter and protection will keep them. In summer they must have protection and a home—nature will provide food in the summer, which consists mainly of insects, bugs and worms.

They must have a place to drink and bathe both in summer and winter. Birds long absent from a neighborhood will find their way back soon after provisions for their comfort are made. There is no bird that can be so readily increased in number, in many localities, by putting up nesting houses for them, as can the purple martin. But the list of birds that can usually be attracted to our homes in the northeastern and middle states is long and varied, and

But today we are realizing more and more the great value of the wild birds in protecting our shrubs, trees, orchards, crops, etc., from the awful horde of insect pests which invade our gardens and cause losses of untold amounts each year; and so the wild birds are now most enthusiastically catered to and sought after creatures.

The placing of your bird houses and food shelters has much to do with their success. Houses for the sociable martins are usually placed in an open corner; nuthatches and most of the woodpeckers prefer to have their homes in the woods, although the friendly flicker and red-headed woodpecker like to nest in houses placed among scattered trees; swallows nest in open spaces; crested flycatchers, chickadees, finches are not particular, but will build where most convenient.

The houses should be thoroughly cleaned out each year before the birds are ready for nesting.

Barn Swallows

E. F. Hodgson Co. Specialties

The birds can get along very comfortably in summer without seeking food from their human friends, but in winter, when the frozen insects, eggs, seeds of weeds, etc., on which they naturally feed, are covered by snow, it is essential that food be placed where they can find it else many of them will perish.

We are often asked what to feed the birds. Almost anything eatable will keep them from starving. They like cracked corn, cracked rice, grain, scratch feed, bread crumbs, chaff from the barn floor, hemp and sunflower seeds, mixed bird seeds, etc. Nut meats are eagerly taken; also suet and fats of all kinds.

Try coaxing some of the birds to feed from your window sills, using our window feed and suet shelters. It will surprise you to see how tame they will become, especially the chickadees and nuthatches. By offering them a broken nut, a piece of doughnut, some suet, many people can coax these birds to feed from their hand regularly each day.
